NEXT PRODUCTION

For the next two weeks we are presenting Arnold Ridley's "THE GHOST TRAIN". This is perhaps the most famous of all comedy thrillers, and has been performed regularly ever since it was written 35 years ago. It seems extraordinary, therefore, that we have never before done it here.

A small and oddly assorted number of passengers find themselves stranded on a stormy night in the waiting room of a wayside station in Cornwall. They have missed their connection and decide to spend the night there. The weird psychic Station Master does his best to dissuade them with his stories of murder and a "ghost train", and it is not long before they regret not taking his advice.

The play, of course, was written before the days of British Railways and electrification, and we are playing it in the style and dress of 1925.

The cast will include:—Julie Martin, Caroline Mortimer, Anne Stallybrass, Roger Rowland, Lisle Jones, Donald Duncan and John Ingram, who will also produce.
