The Leas Pavilion Playgoers Club

Some of our patrons who are not already members might like to know rather more about the Leas Pavilion Playgoers Club (general details of which appear on our centre page).

Since its inception at the start of our season at Easter this year we have enrolled nearly six hundred members, and the several meetings which have been held have proved enjoyable social occasions as well as providing audience, actors and management with useful opportunities to get to know each other and to exchange points of view. Many interesting suggestions have been made as to choice of plays, general theatre policy, and so on, and all of these have been given careful consideration and many will be acted upon.

During the winter months an active programme is being planned, commencing with a "theatre outing" on Thursday, 17th November, to see a matinee performance of a Theatre South East Company presentation of Joyce Rayburn's "The Man Most Likely To . . ." at the De La Warr Pavilion, Bexhill, and to look over and take tea in that famous building. The following meeting will probably be a "Musical Evening" to be held fairly early in December, when we hope a genial and festive spirit will prevail!

These and other proposed activities are to be discussed at the next Club meeting, which is to be an afternoon Tea Party at the theatre on Tuesday, 27th October. New members can be registered on this occasion, and if you would like to join the Club, why not come along? You will meet a lot of other people with a similar interest in the theatre, and also be helping to keep the live theatre a going concern in Folkestone. The annual subscription (which lasts until 1st April next) is a modest ten shillings, and we feel sure you would find access to our winter programme well worth the outlay.

Ladies and Gentlemen,

Next Thursday we are presenting "THE SEVENTH VEIL", the magnificent play by Muriel and Sydney Box, which has been adapted for the stage from the outstandingly successful film of the same name. This is a gripping story of a young girl and a man whose dominating influence over her turns her into a famous concert pianist. Francesca, the role played in the film by Ann Todd, will be portrayed by Jill Meers, while Roy Purcell, who also directs this production, will take over the role of Nicholas, originally played by James Mason.

Also appearing in the cast are Paul Ratcliff, Derek Wright, Jonathan Prince, Thelma Rogers, John Blackman, Ian Clegg, Elsbeth Pirie and Ian Drake.

DURING THE INTERVALS

The Theatre Bar (fully licensed) at the rear of the Stalls is open from 7.30 before the performance and during the intervals. Orders taken for drinks before 8.0 will be ready for the intervals. The Coffee Bar is open during the intervals for the sale of coffee at evening performances and tea at matinees. Snacks are also available. Ice cream, chocolates and sweets can be purchased from the attendants in the auditorium.

LEAS PAVILION PLAYGOERS CLUB

The Leas Pavilion Playgoers' Club has been formed to build up a permanent and regular audience for dramatic presentations at the Leas Pavilion; to foster links between those taking part and those watching the productions; and to promote interest in the living theatre by the media of lectures, demonstrations, social and other activities.

Members' Privileges:

Season tickets at reduced prices for specific eight-week periods.
